

Wakaki Shop

Wakaki Brick Warehouse

1. The Buildings are registered as the tangible cultural properties!

You can learn the history and culture of the warehouse!

The shop was built in 1931, and a brick warehouse was built in 1904.

Both of them are designated as a registered as the national tangible cultural property of Japan.

You can visit and watch inside of the valuable warehouse, which is made of an unusual striped persimmon (Shima-gaki) tree.

There are 8 warehouses in this site, and you can see the history of the warehouse in Kitakata.

2. The Brewery of Natural Brewed Soy Sauce”

We make “Natural Brewed Soy Sauce”, which is made from Aizu soybeans, wheats, Ako Ama-shi-o (the special salts), and the water from Mt. IIDE in the northern part of Aizu.

It has been matured those materials in wooden tub at the storehouse for long period.

We also would like to suggest how to use the soy sauce! We have “Da-shi soy sauce”, this soy sauce which is very match for Tamago-yaki (egg-roll). There’s another various type of soy sauces in our shop.

We sell the miso & soy sauce in the shop, and here was founded in 1755.

3. The Nostalgic Showa-Period style Store “Wakaki. Showa-Kan”

Many nostalgic toys and sweets are displayed, and the wall clock sounds ticktack...

There are a lot of good old memories of the Japanese fathers childhood days.

You can buy these items from 10yen!

* There are nostalgic sweets and classical Japanese goods displayed. And we also have the old telegraph pole, and the old wall clock.

(Our store open 10:00 am~ 3:00 pm / Store close at Winter...December-March)
